I. Letter to Shareholders

Dear Shareholders,

The consumer electronics industry was in severe correction in 2023. The demand for integrated circuits (IC) dropped significantly, compared to the strong consumption in the prior years during the pandemic. This decrease resulted in excessive inventory in the market. Our revenue in 2023 reduced considerably. We managed the business downturn aggressively to cut down on our non-essential spending and to reduce manufacturing activities. As a result, we were profitable in 2023. Our R&D projects and new product introductions remain on a good trajectory. In 2023, the revenue and net income were $441.25 million (NT$13.77 billion) and $64.97 million (NT$2.03 billion), respectively.

The pandemic boom busted starting in the 2nd half of 2022. This downturn was in full swing in the 1st half of 2023. We re-negotiated with our wafer foundries and OSATs (Outsourced Semiconductor Assembly and Test) to cut down obligations of our Long-Term Agreements (LTAs). These negotiations were successful and allowed us to avoid financial penalties. We initially focused on the reduction of inventory in distribution channels. We were glad to see that our distributors' inventory was at normal levels since the late 3rd quarter 2023. In the 2nd half of 2023, PC and notebook demand gradually came back while we were fighting to reduce our own inventory. We are making progress in achieving our own normal inventory level.

In 2023, we strengthened our high-speed product portfolio with the addition of new highspeed devices, such as redrivers, retimers, mux, demux and USB HUBs to support HDMI 2.1, DP 2.1 (20Gbps), and USB 4.0 (40Gbps). We focused on the development of leading highspeed technologies and products. We successfully deployed our 1st generation USB 4.0 (40Gbps) retimer in large volume. We also developed the 2nd generation USB 4.0 retimer to further enhance performance and reduce cost. Hence, our USB 4.0 retimers have been enjoying large market share and have been successfully designed into AI-enabled notebook systems. We developed and introduced SiGe BiCMOS process based high-speed redrivers of PCIe Gen 4 (16Gbps) and Gen 5 (32Gbps) and USB 4.2 (80Gbps) for workstations, servers, and high-speed cables. We also successfully developed our PCIe Gen 5 retimer technology and products and designed them into customers' systems.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) has been advancing rapidly both in datacenter and edge computing. Generative AI requires large computing power and rapid data transfer. High-speed technologies are necessary to achieve the required performance. High-speed products have potential to capture AI computing market opportunities. We are working with customers to use our high-speed technologies for AI computing. We are timely developing PCIe Gen 6 (64Gbps) and USB 4.2 (80Gbps) retimer and redriver technologies and products to take advantage of such opportunities.

Automobiles, especially electric vehicles (EV), are emerging as a new market for Parade. Modern vehicles equip advanced displays, in-car entertainment systems, and Advanced Driver-Assistance Systems (ADAS). To achieve such functionalities, high-speed USB, PCIe, HDMI, and DisplayPort devices and their converters are required. We successfully designed several of our auto grade high-speed devices into vehicles of leading auto manufacturers. We expect that Parade's solutions will gain more high-speed device adoption in the automotive market. Parade has been well recognized as the leader on embedded DisplayPort (eDP) Tcon in the panel industry. The advanced eDP-Tcon and Source Driver devices require high-speed technology on glass, where Parade has unique and proven high-speed technologies. We not only offer robust eDP technology up to 8.1Gbps but also our high-speed SIPI technology that provides point-to-point connection between Tcon and Source Driver devices. In 2023, we modernized our eDP-Tcon product line by offering a set of new Tcon devices based on advanced CMOS technology that lower power consumption while providing advanced display features. It has been our vision that it will be more efficient and cost-effective to have integrated solutions that combine eDP-Tcon and Source Driver together. We extended TED (Tcon-Embedded-Driver) devices to support high-resolution and high refresh-rate panels. In addition, our newly-developed TTcon (Touch-Tcon) and tTED (touch-Tcon-Embedded-Driver) products have entered into production. This integration leads to the increase of our silicon contents with the addition of touch functionality.

Our eDP-Tcon supports not only LCD notebook panels but also new generation panels including AMOLED and mini-LED based notebook and tablet panels. While offering advanced and competitive eDP-Tcon solutions for the general market, we also develop customized eDP-Tcon products for the advanced displays of the leading global brands.

We further advanced our SIPI technology to SIPI 2.0 to enable touch analog-front-end (AFE) and source driver integration for TSD (Touch-Source-Driver) devices. Such TSD devices along with our TTcon devices provide a total solution for touch enabled LCD panels and allow us to win market share.

Moreover, modern cars demand integrated display solutions, and tTED technology is on the forefront in supporting such requirements. We are developing auto-grade tTED products. Our auto-grade tTED device paired with our auto-grade converter device is ideal for modern auto displays.

Parade's consolidated net income in 2023 was US$64.97 million (NT$2.03 billion), a decrease of 61.15% from US$167.25 million (NT$4.90 billion) in 2022. Earnings per diluted share in 2023 were US$0.82 (NT$25.55), a decrease of 60.19% from US$2.06 (NT$60.35) in 2022. Gross profit margin in 2023 was 43.72% compared to 46.5% in 2022 while operating profit margin was 14.25%, down from 26.47% in the prior year.

We continue to focus on our employees and intellectual property. High-quality engineering talent is critical to our success. We are committed to recruiting and investing in our employees to build up corporate structures and to execute our product roadmap. We are also committed to corporate social responsibility. We work hard with our customers and suppliers to reduce and limit carbon emissions during the product manufacturing cycle. Moreover, we invested heavily to modernize our network infrastructure to improve our security and strengthened our IT team capability and capacity. As of December 31, 2023, Parade has 758 employees, up 13 from 2022. Out of 758 employees, 517 were engaged in research, development, and related engineering. We hold 289 granted patents and have 26 patent applications pending at the end of the year 2023.

While 2023 was a downturn year, we are confident that our leadership, strategy, technologies, and market opportunities will lead to continued growth for our business. We believe Parade is well-positioned to generate favorable results for our shareholders.

We appreciate the support from all of our shareholders!

II. Company Profile

2.1 Date of Incorporation

Parade Technologies, Ltd. ("Parade", "the Company") was incorporated in the Cayman Islands in November 2005. The Company is a leading designer, developer and supplier of high performance integrated circuits, or ICs, specializing in a variety of display, touch controller and high-speed interface standards used in computers, consumer electronics and display panels.

2.2 Company Information

Parade Technologies, Inc., the US subsidiary, was established in Santa Clara, California, the heart of Silicon Valley in December 2005, serving as our headquarter and assisting the Company's R&D and administration. To expand the scale of R&D, in 2006 Parade started a research center in Shanghai and established a branch office in Hong Kong as our main sales location. Given the advantages in vertical integration in Taiwan's well-developed IC industry, the Taiwan branch office was established in 2007, responsible for the Company's production development and customer services. In July 2011, the Korea subsidiary was established as a sales and customer support center. In May 2012, Parade also set up a R&D center in Nanjing. In August 2015, Parade had completed its acquisition of Cypress's TrueTouch Mobile business, and set up the branch offices in Ireland, Japan, Washington, Beijing and Shenzhen. The Company set up a Cayman subsidiary, Pinchot Ltd., in April 2020, and to speed up Parade's roadmap development and execution in USB4 product line and beyond to provide cutting-edge high-speed products to our customers, Pinchot Ltd. had a merger plan of Fresco Logic, Inc. and completed the merger in June 2020. During this period, to cope with the expansion of the operation scale after the merger, set up the branch offices in Oregon in May 2020, and set up a subsidiary in Chongqing in June 2020. For more details of the Company's organization chart, please refers to section 8.1 "Summary of Affiliated Companies".

2.3 Company Overview

Parade is a fabless provider of high performance mixed-signal ICs targeting a broad range of high-speed interface standards, display and touch solutions. Our product portfolio is broad and includes timing controllers (T-CON), source drivers, converters, retimers, repeaters, MUX, DeMUX, level shifters, touch controllers and other related solutions. Applications for our products include desktops, notebooks, monitors, tablets, servers, automobiles, smartphones and other consumer electronics and display panels. With increasing demand for massive data transmission for today's electronic devices, coupled with the gradual maturity of video technologies such as 3D, high resolution and high refresh rate, we believe the high-speed interface which enables simultaneous data and video transmission will become the market mainstream.

Parade's management team has many years of industry experience and has hence developed a strong grasp on the direction of next generation display, touch and high-speed interface standards. Taking advantage of engineering talents and operational efficiency globally, the Company aims to minimize the response time to the newest customer specification, perform instant Spec-In and Design-in, and provide comprehensive design solutions as well as customer support platform for our customers.

2.5 Risk Factors

Foreign issuing companies are required to provide information on the countries where the Company was incorporated and where the Company and its subsidiaries mainly operate. The information should discuss the domestic economy, changes in the political environment, foreign exchange control, taxation, relevant decree, and the risks and response measures associated with the recognition of civil judgment from our court of law; and other risk factors please refer to 7.6 Risk Management.

- (1) Country of Incorporation: The Cayman Islands

Over the years, the government of the Cayman Islands has been actively promoting its reputation in offshore financial operations with the signing of the Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty with the United States and Great Britain in 1990. This treaty was aimed at preventing international crime organizations from dealing illegally through the country's financial system. The Cayman Islands has experienced long periods of political stability, and as one of the primary financial centers in the world, changes in the economic or political environment will not have a major influence on the overall operation of the Company.

The Company's Articles of Association provide that the AGM shall be held within 6 months after the close of each fiscal year. The Company's Article of Incorporation also states that the time and location of the AGM will be decided at the Board of Directors meeting. Unless otherwise specified by law, the annual general meeting will be held in the Republic of China (ROC).
- (D) To issue new shares, the resolution needs to be reached at the Board of Directors meeting or shareholders meeting. - (K) Cayman registered company shall pay annual fees and file tax returns on a timely basis to maintain its standing.
- (L) Cayman registered company shall be subject to the laws and regulations of the United Nations.

Summarizing the above, due to the open foreign exchange policy adopted by the Cayman Islands, there are no related control restrictions, and should not have a major influence on the capital allocation of the Company. Pursuant to section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (2018 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, the Company has obtained an undertaking from the Financial Secretary of the Cayman Islands. The undertaking is for twenty years from 22 November 2005. The Cayman Islands currently levy no taxes on individuals or corporations based upon profits, income, gains, or appreciations and there is no taxation in the nature of inheritance tax or estate duty. Concerning the rights of minority shareholders, there exist differences between the laws of the Cayman Islands and those of the ROC or other judicial areas. The Company has made alterations to the article of association to protect the rights of investors in Taiwan. The alterations were made in accordance with the ROC Securities and Exchange Act, and Company Act, and all within the limits set forth by laws and regulations of the Cayman Islands. Although alterations to the Company article of the association have been made, the degree of shareholder rights protection might still differ when compared to that of companies in the ROC. Please refer to section 8.4 of the annual report for details regarding the exercise of shareholder rights. The section only summarizes the laws and regulations applicable to the exempted company. If investors would like to understand the impact on the operation of the Company and the impact on the investors under the detailed rules and restrictions provided by the Cayman laws and regulations and common laws, we suggest the investors should consult professional advisors.

The Cayman Islands passed The International Tax Co-operation (Economic Substance, ES) Law on 27 December 2018 (the "ES Law") made revisions to the ES Law in 2020 and 2021, and issued additional Regulations and Guidance version 1.0 on 22 February 2019 and amended it by Guidance version 2.0 on 30 April 2019, by Guidance version 3.0 on 13 July 2020, by Guidance version 3.1 on 30 June 2021 and by Guidance version 3.2 in July 2022, respectively. The ES Law requires certain entities incorporated or registered in the Cayman Islands (i.e. the "Relevant Entities" defined in ES Law) and carrying on specified activities (i.e. the "Relevant Activities" as defined in ES Law) to satisfy an economic substance test in relation to that relevant activity. It is expected that certain important practical aspects of the economic substance requirements are likely to be further clarified by additional Regulations and Guidance to be introduced by the Cayman Islands from time to time. The impact on the Company's finances and operations is limited so far. However, given the possibility of the additional regulations and guidance to be introduced, the precise impact will need to be further explored and evaluated. The Company is and will continue, to seek legal advice from its Cayman counsel to comply with the ES Law.

III. Recognition and enforcement of the final civil judgment obtained in the ROC courts

Although there is no judicial precedent with respect to the recognition and enforcement of the final civil judgment obtained in the ROC courts, a judgment obtained in such jurisdiction will be recognized and enforced in the courts of the Cayman Islands at common law in principle, without any re-examination of the merits of the underlying dispute, by an action commenced on the foreign judgment debt in the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands, provided that such judgment:

- (A) is given by a foreign court of competent jurisdiction;
- (B) imposes on the judgment debtor a liability to pay a liquidated sum for which the judgment has been given;
- (C) is final;
- (D) is not in respect of taxes, a fine or a penalty; and
- (E) is not obtained in a manner and is not of a kind the enforcement of which is contrary to natural justice or the public policy of the Cayman Islands.

Given the above, under the Cayman laws and regulations, if the final civil judgment obtained in the ROC courts meets the foregoing requirements, such judgment will be recognized and enforced by the Cayman courts; otherwise, it will not be recognized and enforced by the Cayman courts. Therefore, we could not exclude the risk that the final civil judgment from the court of the ROC will not be recognized and enforced in the courts of the Cayman Islands.

(2) United States

I. Changes in the economic and political environment

In 2023, although the Federal Reserve's interest rate hikes impacted households and businesses, the resilient employment market, wage increases, and inflation moderation continued to drive consumer spending. According to data released by the Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) of the U.S. Department of Commerce on January 25, 2024, the GDP growth of the United States in 2023 was 2.5%. Based on the quarterly analysis, despite a reduction in private inventory investment and residential fixed investment in the first quarter, which partially offset GDP growth, an increase in consumer spending, accounting for 70% of GDP, propelled first-quarter GDP growth by 2%. Consumer spending continues to buoy the U.S. economy, even amidst banking turmoil and continuous interest rate hikes by the Federal Reserve (Fed). The U.S. economy still commenced the first quarter with a strong performance. In the second quarter, aside from benefiting from expanded business investment, the main drivers were a robust job market leading to raising wages for businesses, coupled with alleviated inflationary pressures, resulting in heightened consumer spending. Although growth moderated compared to the first quarter, it still yielded a 2.1% increase in GDP. In the third quarter, propelled by increased consumer spending, business inventories, exports, residential investment, and government expenditure, GDP surged by 4.9%, significantly surpassing the 2.1% growth rate of the previous quarter and marking the largest quarterly expansion since the fourth quarter of 2021. The fourth quarter GDP growth stood at 3.3%, primarily attributed to robust performances in the job market and consumer spending. While the growth rate fell short of the third quarter, it notably exceeded market expectations of 2%, reflecting the continued resilience of the U.S. economy.

Looking ahead, the inflation trend and the Federal Reserve's response to inflation policies will be key factors for economic growth in 2024. The longer high-interest rates are maintained, the greater the impact on consumer demand, business recruitment, and expansion plans due to increased borrowing costs. According to the International Monetary Fund (IMF) report dated January 30, 2024, it is estimated that the GDP growth for the year 2024 will be 2.10%. We specialize in the R&D and sales of ICs for the high-speed interface, touch, and display products that applications found in tablets, notebooks, and LCD monitors. Our major customers assemble the products in Asia and distribute them worldwide. The United States is one of the world's major consumer markets for electronic products, so the demand for consumer electronics products will be influenced by consumers' purchasing power.

II. Foreign exchange control, taxation and related act

The US financial system has become a mature and complete financial body after long evolving periods. Its currency market is the most developed currency market in the world, providing the most convenient platform for international financial transactions. The buying and selling of foreign currency in the United States is no longer restricted by foreign exchange controls, and the group's US operation has not encountered risks resulted from foreign exchange controls. With concerns to risks related to law and tax regulations, the group's US operation has not encountered any changes to the Company financials due to changes in law or tax regulations. Still, future changes in related laws or tax policies might adversely affect the Company's financials. If investors would like to understand the impact to the operation of the Company and the impact on the investors under the detailed rules and restrictions provided by the US laws and regulations and common laws, we suggest investors should consult professional advisors.

III. Recognition and enforcement of the final civil judgment obtained in the ROC courts

The recognition and enforcement of foreign judgment in California is mainly governed by the 'Uniform Foreign-Country Money Judgments Recognition Act, Cal. Code Civ. Proc. §1713-1724' of California (the "Act"). The Act only applies to the foreign judgments which are applied to be recognized and enforced by the California courts since January 1, 2008.

- (A) In general, the foreign judgments recognized by California court shall be the judgments with respect to the payment liability or not. The such foreign judgment must be final, conclusive and enforceable without any of the following events:
 - (a) It is a judgment for tax;
 - (b) The judgment was related to fine, amercement, or other similar penalties;
 - (c) It is a judgment regarding divorce, duties for raising, alimony or the relationship of other kinship; and
 - (d) Whereas, the judgments regarding divorce, duties for raising, alimony or the relationship of other kinship shall not exclude the occasion that such judgments are recognized by the California courts in accordance with the Section 1723 of the Act.
- (B) An action to recognize a judgment from the ROC shall be commenced within the earlier of the time during which the judgment is effective in the ROC or 10 years from the date that the judgment became effective in the ROC (Unless ROC law regulates a shorter effective period). The court of California shall not recognize a foreign-country judgment if any of the following applies:
 - (a) The judgment was rendered under a judicial system that does not provide impartial tribunals or procedures compatible with the requirements of due process of law.

(b) The foreign court did not have personal jurisdiction over the defendant, or jurisdiction over the subject matter.

In addition, the court of California is not required to recognize a foreign-country judgment if any of the following applies:

- (A) The defendant in the proceeding in the foreign court did not receive notice of the proceeding in sufficient time to enable the defendant to defend;
- (B) The judgment was obtained by fraud and the losing party was not granted adequate time to prepare the defense;
- (C) The judgment, the cause of action or the remedies claimed were against the public policy of the state of California or the US;
- (D) The judgment conflicts with another final and conclusive judgment;
- (E) The proceeding in the foreign court was contrary to an agreement between the parties under which the dispute in question was to be determined;
- (F) The foreign court was a seriously inconvenient forum for the trial of the action (serious forum non convenience);
- (G) The judgment was rendered in circumstances that raise substantial doubt about the integrity of the rendering court with respect to the judgment;
- (H) The specific proceeding in the foreign court leading to the judgment was not compatible with the requirements of due process of law; or
- (I) The judgment includes compensation for defamation; unless the California court holds that the protections for freedom of speech and freedom of the press provided by the foreign courts are not lower than that provided under California and U.S. Constitutions.

Summarizing the above, according to laws of the United States, if the conclusive civil judgment from the court of ROC meets the above provisions, it should be recognized and enforced by the court of California, otherwise there still exists the risk that the civil judgment from the court of ROC might not be recognized and enforced by the court of California.

(3) China

I. Changes in economic and political environment

In the year 2023, China's domestic demand gradually rebounded, and the economy began to recover. According to data released by the National Bureau of Statistics of China on February 29, 2024, the GDP growth for 2023 reached 5.2%, surpassing the previous year's 3%. Upon quarterly analysis, the GDP growth rates for the four quarters were 4.5%, 6.3%, 4.9%, and 5.2% respectively. In the first quarter, as the "zero-COVID" policy was lifted and the impact of the epidemic on economic activities gradually diminished, various industries saw growth, leading to a rebound in GDP growth rate to 4.5%, up from 2.9% in the fourth quarter of 2022. Although GDP grew by 6.3% in the second quarter, marking the largest growth rate in nearly eight quarters, it only increased by 0.4% compared to the same period of the previous year due to the impact of the epidemic and lockdowns in places like Shanghai. The high GDP growth in the second quarter was influenced by the low base period. In the third quarter, with the implementation of macroeconomic policy adjustments by the Chinese government, a stable increase in production supply, reduced unemployment rate, and increased private investment, consumer market demand continued to expand, leading to a GDP growth of 4.9%. In the fourth quarter, supported by employment and boosting private consumption, rebound in export growth rate; and stimulus from loose monetary policies, GDP reached a growth rate of 5.2%.

Although the China economy experienced a slight rebound in the fourth quarter of 2023, it still faces many challenges in 2024 due to the prolonged slump in the real estate sector and weak consumer confidence. The International Monetary Fund released the world economy outlook on January 30, 2024, China's GDP, which is forecast at 4.6%, if indeed achieved as projected, should have a positive impact on the sales of our company's end products. As our company's subsidiaries in China (such as those incorporated in Shanghai, Nanjing, Chongqing, etc.) are all research and development centers and are not engaged in production or sales activities, the impact of China's political and economic changes on our company is relatively low.

II. Foreign exchange control, taxation and related acts

In China, the exchange of Renminbi (RMB) for foreign currency is still restricted. The main regulations for foreign exchange control of China are "Regulations on the Foreign Exchange System of the People's Republic of China" and "Administration of the Settlement, Sale, and Payment of Foreign Exchange Provisions". According to relevant regulations, foreign currency is prohibited for circulation and shall not be quoted for pricing or settlement in the territory of the People's Republic of China (PRC). All foreign exchange receipts of domestic entities shall be repatriated, and according to regulations, sold to the designated foreign exchange banks or upon approval, deposited into a foreign exchange account. In addition, valid documents and commercial bills must be provided to engage in the sale and purchase of foreign currency with designated foreign exchange banks. Foreign-funded enterprises obtaining permission to exchange RMB for foreign currency under the current account (including the distribution of dividends to foreign investors) must provide documents related to the transaction. For RMB exchange under the capital account such as offshore direct investment or the offering or trading of securities and financial derivatives, registration at the Administration of Exchange Control is required. Laws and regulations also require permission to be obtained from a competent authority or apply for a filing; procedures to obtain permission or filing should be done before the foreign currency registration. For foreign currency exchange under the capital account such as obtaining loans or withdrawing investment from China, permission from relevant foreign exchange controlling bodies should be obtained. Registration at the Administration of Exchange Control is also required.

On the 1st of January 2008, the Chinese government initiated the "Labor Contract Law" and "The Implementing Notes of China's Labor Contract Law", effective from the 18th of September 2008, and were revised and implemented in 2013. The new law aims to protect the legitimate rights and interests of the workers and improve the labor system by specifying the rights and obligations of both parties to the labor contract. The following relates to relevant employment regulations, and will increase costs for corporations when employment or the labor contract is illegally terminated:

- (A) The economic compensation shall be paid to workers according to the number of years he has worked for the employer by the rate of one month's salary for each full year he worked.
- (B) During the probation period, the salary of a worker shall not be lower than the minimum salary for the same position of the same employer or lower than 80 percent of the wage as stipulated in the labor contract, nor may it be lower than the minimum wage of the locality where the entity is situated.
- (C) If the worker has worked for an uninterrupted term of ten years for the employer, or entered into two consecutive labor contracts with fixed period with the employer, the employer shall enter into the indefinite labor contract with such worker unless such worker would like to enter into a labor contract with a fixed period again.
- (D) If an employer fails to enter into an indefinite labor contract with a worker pursuant to the relevant laws and regulations, the employer shall pay the worker double the amount of his monthly salary from the time that they shall enter into the indefinite labor contract according to laws and regulations.
- (E) If an employer fails to enter into a labor contract in written form with a worker since the date of one month after the onboard date (but before the date of 1st anniversary of the onboard date), the employer shall pay the worker double amount of his monthly salary.
- (F) If an employer employs someone who has not duly terminated employment or the labor contract with the previous employer, the employer and such worker shall be jointly and severally liable to compensate the losses incurred by such previous employer therefrom.

On the 16th of March 2007, Mainland China passed an enterprise taxation law, the "Law of the People's Republic of China on Income Tax of Enterprises with Foreign Investment and Foreign Enterprises" and second time amended on December 29, 2018, applying a tax rate of 25% to all taxable income of foreign enterprises and also putting an end to 20 years of preferential tax treatment for foreign enterprises. The law became effective from the 1st of January 2008, which increased restrictions on preferential tax treatments and focused the policy on benefiting certain industries, abolished the tax preferential for foreign investors and the tax exemptions on distributable profits. When companies in the Mainland distribute earnings to foreign investors, a dividend tax rate of 10% (institutional investors) and 20% (individual investors) will be deducted.

Parade's business is not categorized as a labor-intensive industry. In China, Parade's employees are mainly in Research & Development. The retaining of employees has complied with related regulations. Therefore, enforcing the labor contract law of the People's Republic of China will have a limited impact. In addition, the Finance Department and Administration Department of Parade usually close monitoring the changing of related regulations and the Political and Economic situation of the People's Republic of China. Parade also will consult with lawyer and CPA timely to reduce the possibility of risk.

In the regulations aspect, the PRC subsidiaries of Parade should follow the China Company Act and other related regulations. In this section, we only summarize the recent changes in regulations related to foreign exchange, taxation, and labor law. If investors would more understand the impact of Parade's operation and individual investors' regard China's regulations, we suggest that the investors should consult professional advisors.

III. Recognition and enforcement of the final civil judgment obtained in the ROC courts

In accordance with "Provisions of the Supreme Court on Recognition and Enforcement of the Civil Judgments of Courts of the Taiwan Region" (the "Provisions") as announced on June 29, 2015, and effectively from July 1, 2015, a party to the civil judgment of a court of the Taiwan Region may, in accordance with the provisions, apply to the people's court for recognition and enforcement of the civil judgment of the relevant court of the Taiwan Region as an applicant. For the purpose of the Provisions, the term of "civil judgment of courts of the Taiwan Region" shall include the effective civil judgments, rulings, settlement transcripts, mediation transcripts, and payment orders issued by courts of the Taiwan Region, among others. A case involving an application for recognition of the civil judgment of a court of the Taiwan Region shall be accepted by the intermediate people's court or a special people's court at the place where the applicant is domiciled or habitually resides, the respondent is domiciled or habitually resides, or the relevant property is located. According to the Provisions, the civil judgment of courts of the Taiwan Region will not be recognized in any of the following events:

(A) the civil judgment is not final;

- (B) the civil judgment has been made in the lack of presence of legal subpoena to the defendant, or under the circumstance that the defendant is incapable in legal acts and without a proper agent to represent such defendant in such case;
- (C) the civil case falls under the total jurisdiction of the people's court;

- (D) the parties in the civil action have entered into arbitration agreement previously and the parties make no waiver for the arbitration jurisdiction;
- (E) the case has had a ruling from the people's court or an arbitration award from the PRC arbitration tribunal;
- (F) the case has had a ruling from the court of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region, the Macao Special Administrative Region or other foreign countries and such ruling has been recognized by the people's court;
- (G) the case has had an arbitration award from the arbitration tribunal of the Taiwan Region, the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region, the Macao Special Administrative Region or other foreign countries and such arbitration award has been recognized by the people's court.

The people court shall not recognize the civil judgment in case the recognition of such judgment will be in violation with the one-China principle or will impede the social public interest.

The civil judgment of courts of the Taiwan Region recognized by the people's court will have the equivalent effect to the effective judgment rendered by the people's court.

(4) Hong Kong

I. Changes in an economic and political environment

The Hong Kong Special Administrative Region is located in the heart of the East-Asian region. On 1st of July 1997, due to changes in the country's constitution, Hong Kong became "The Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China". The People's Republic of China enacted "The Basic Law" to establish Hong Kong as a special administrative region, and follows the principles of "one country, two systems" by maintaining the capitalist system that was embedded before sovereign rights were transferred. At the same time, The Basic law also regulates the methods of managing the Special Administrative Region in the next 50 years by promising not to apply the socialist system and policies to Hong Kong. According to The Basic Law, Hong Kong is authorized to exercise a high degree of autonomy and enjoy executive, legislative, and independent judicial power and even that of final adjudication. The executive authority and legislature of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region shall be composed of permanent residents of Hong Kong while maintaining its status as a free port, independent taxation territory, and a global financial center.

On the economy, Hong Kong remains an international center for commerce, trade, and finance. The economy staged a recovery in 2023 in the aftermath of the pandemic. Hong Kong GDP resumed growth of 3.2% in 2023 after a contracted 3.7% in 2022, according to the 2023 Economic Background and 2024 Prospects of the Government of the Hong Kong Census and Statistics Department, Feb. 28, 2024. Based on the quarterly analysis, the Hong Kong economy improved visibly in the first quarter of 2023, alongside the economic recovery led by the strong recovery of inbound tourism and domestic demand, as well as the declining unemployment rate, GDP resumed growth of 2.7% in the first quarter. Driven by inbound tourism and private consumption continuing upward, the Hong Kong economy remained growing in the second quarter of 2023, even though the momentum softened than the preceding quarter did, the GDP still grew by 1.5% in the second quarter. The Hong Kong economy continued to revive in the third quarter, despite the difficult global economic environment weighed on exports of goods, the labor market improved further, employment income continued to attain growth, and inbound tourism and private consumption continued growth. The GDP grew by 4.1% in the third quarter. In the fourth quarter, thanks to the Hong Kong government's various support initiatives, inbound tourism continued to improve, at the same time boosted private consumption willingness, and the unemployment rate also fell slightly to 2.7% from 2.8% in the previous quarter, the lowest rate in 25 years, bringing GDP growth to 4.3% in the fourth quarter.

Looking ahead to 2024, Hong Kong's economy should gradually improve amid an expected easing of financial conditions. Rising household income and the Government's initiatives should boost private consumption. Led to economic growth and the government's efforts in infrastructure and increasing housing supply, fixed asset investment should expand further. According to the Hong Kong Census and Statistics Department forecast, the GDP is expected to grow between 2.5% to 3.5%.

II. Foreign exchange control, taxation and related Act

The Hong Kong economy is based on business freedom, free trade, and open policies. The Hong Kong government has no trade restrictions or foreign exchange controls.

In terms of taxation, Hong Kong has a low tax rate with relatively simple tax regulations. Direct taxation only consists of taxation on income, salary, and corporate profits. Hong Kong does not levy capital gains tax, sales tax, tax on share dividends, or estate duty. Taxes are only levied on income derived from or within Hong Kong, and the current tax rate on profit is 16.5%. Income derived from territories outside of Hong Kong will not be levied. Hong Kong is a free port with no customs tax on imported goods except liquor, tobacco, hydrocarbon oils, and methyl alcohol. There is no taxation on the exporting of goods from Hong Kong.

After evaluating the tax laws of Hong Kong, we have not observed any influence on the Company's financials as a result of changes to relevant laws or tax regulations. In the future, besides collecting information on the changes in relevant tax laws and policies of Hong Kong that may affect the Company's business and financials, we will also seek professional opinions and take relevant precautions to reduce tax-related risks. In the aspect of the regulation, Parade has a branch office in Hong Kong and should follow the Hong Kong Company Act and other related regulations. In this section, we only summarize the recent changes in regulations related to foreign exchange and taxation. If investors would understand the impact of the Parade's operation and individual investors regard to the Hong Kong's regulations, we suggest the investors should consult the professional advisors.

III. Recognition and enforcement of the final civil judgment obtained in the ROC courts

There is no mutual agreement between Hong Kong and Taiwan on recognizing civil judgment from each country. There has not been a clear decision from the court of Hong Kong on issues related to the recognition and execution of civil judgment from the court of Taiwan. The court of Hong Kong may recognize orders from the court of Taiwan when the following conditions are met:

- (A) The right regarding the order is a purely private right
- (B) Recognition of the court order aligns with public justice, law and order, and common sense.
- (C) Recognition of relevant orders does not violate public policies of Hong Kong or with animosity towards the legal sovereign of the People's Republic of China.

(The above list is not exhaustive.)

In addition, when considering the recognition of civil judgment, the court of Hong Kong will adopt international principles under the common law and the procedural examination, which includes but is not restricted to:

- (A) Whether the court has judicial jurisdiction on the case
- (B) Whether the respondent has received a notice to respond and given enough time to prepare.
- (C) Whether the judgment is effective and can be enforced.
- (D) Whether recognizing the judgment will cause harm to the court or the public order in that area.

Summarizing the above, currently the court of Hong Kong is only recognizing civil judgments from the court of Taiwan when certain conditions are met. If the conclusive civil judgment from the court of Taiwan meets the conditions mentioned previously, the judgment would be recognized and enforced by the court of Hong Kong, otherwise, we must not rule out the risks that the civil judgment from the court of Taiwan might not be recognized and enforced by the court of Hong Kong.

(5) Taiwan

I. Changes in economic and political environment

Taiwan is a democratic country that has thrived in political power and civil liberty and was also ranked highly on the political freedom index by the Freedom House. According to an evaluation by the International Institute for Management Development (IMD) world competitiveness report in 2023 on 64 countries, Taiwan was ranked 6th out of 64 countries, up one place from the previous year, the best ranking place since 2012. Taiwan also ranks 1st in the global competition among nations, with over 20 million populations for the third consecutive year. IMD's main evaluation criteria include economic performance, government efficiency, business efficiency, and infrastructure. In terms of economic performance, due to the global economic slowdown and a slower growth in end demand, coupled with the impact of the higher economic growth rate in the previous year as a base factor, Taiwan's ranking slipped 9 places to 20th. Government efficiency improved as the government continued to reduce borrowing and increase repayments, implementing fiscal soundness, resulting in a 2-place rise to 6th compared to last year. Business efficiency improved due to productivity and efficiency, a healthy and active financial system, and companies' adeptness in using digital tools and technology to enhance productivity, leading to a 2-place rise to 4th. Infrastructure improved due to high research and development capabilities and digital penetration, resulting in an overall ranking rise of 1 place to 12th. Despite Taiwan's commendable performance in the global economic framework, overall economic growth was affected by the global economic slowdown and excessive inventory pressure on end products, leading to a slowdown in export and private investment momentum. According to data from the Taiwan Directorate-General of Budget, Accounting, and Statistics, the GDP growth rate for the year 2023 was 1.4%.

In 2024, despite the uncertain condition in the global economy, which may be unfavorable for commodity exports, the low base period is expected to shift export contributions from negative to growth. Additionally, with reduced inflationary pressures, the Chung-Hua Institution for Economic Research (CIER) predicts that Taiwan's GDP growth will reach 3.10% in 2024.

II. Foreign exchange control, taxation and related Act

Due to Taiwan's small economic body, since establishment, the Taiwan foreign exchange market has always adopted the "floating exchange rate system". The central bank has taken a dynamic stance regulating foreign exchange, and the government will only intervene in situations where stability of the economic and financial environment is adversely affected. These situations include excess volatility and disorderly changes in the foreign exchange rate, emerging of abnormal factors (such as significant movement in short term capital), or seasonal factors causing excessive volatility to the foreign exchange rate. Otherwise, the exchange rate of the New Taiwan Dollar for United States Dollar is largely determined by the demand and supply of the market. Taiwan no longer has foreign exchange controls except for finance related foreign exchange remittances, and they are as follows:

- (A) Inward and outward remittances related to foreign trade in goods, services, or any capital transactions (includes direct investments and portfolio investments) approved by competent authority are completely liberalized.
- (B) Citizens over the age of 18 or foreign persons or companies that has obtained residence permits, are permitted annual remittances not exceeding 5 million dollars and 50 million dollars respectively.
- (C) A single remittance not exceeding USD 100,000 by a non-resident may proceed directly to an authorized bank.

In terms of taxation, Taiwan follows "the Rule of Law" and "Doctrine of Taxation by Law", and these laws regulate the collection of taxes in Taiwan. Taxes are collected by different tax collecting bodies and are namely national taxes (including personal income tax, corporate income tax, business tax, securities transaction tax, estate and gift tax, and commodity and customs tax) and local taxes (such as land value tax, land value increment tax, building tax, deed tax, and stamp tax).

The Company has a Taiwan branch and shall comply with the ROC Company Act and other applicable ROC laws and regulations. This section only provides a summary of the laws and regulations to foreign exchange and taxation. If investors would like to understand more about the impact on the operation of the Company and the impact on the investors under the detailed rules and restrictions provided by the ROC laws and regulations, we suggest the investors should consult professional advisors.

5.1.2 Industry Overview

(1) Current Markets

Parade is focusing on the mobile computing market, which includes notebooks, personal computers, tablets, and smartphones. Parade is also entering the server & datacenter markets with PCIe repeater & retimer products plus automotive markets with selective high speed interface, touch and display products. There are four major market trends presenting significant challenges to many existing system and component suppliers. First, demand for ever-increasing bandwidth across digital interfaces used for video and/or data connectivity is placing new challenges on interface chip designs and driving the requirement for signal repeaters. Second, demand for higher display resolution and higher display refresh rate drives requirements for higher performance and better functionality in display controller and source driver chips used in display panels, which, in turn, drives a need for new architectures, higher integration, and new process technology into the display silicon chip market. The third challenge is the demand for increasing system computation performance and greatly reduced power consumption, while still addressing the design requirements listed above, driven by sleeker/lighter system design with longer battery life. The forth one is the integration of touch solutions with display chips to significantly reduce the complexity of the total panel module manufacturing process and therefore to reduce the total display module BOM cost.

These trends are imposing disruptive changes on silicon architecture and component design requirements which are underpinning the growth of high-speed interface ICs, in particular high speed interfaces, display drivers, DisplayPort timing controllers and touch and display driver integration products for smartphone, tablet, notebook, data center, and automotive markets.

High-Speed Interface Devices

High-speed digital interfaces operating at multi-gigabit rates are now the norm for external connectivity between two devices and for internal connectivity between two embedded functional components. Examples of popular external interfaces include DisplayPort, HDMI (High Definition Multimedia Interface), USB (Universal Serial Bus), USB Type-C, Thunderbolt and USB4. For embedded applications, high-speed digital interfaces include PCI Express (PCIe), eDP (Embedded DisplayPort), as well as SATA and USB. Virtually all of these interface standards have doubled their data rate over the last five years, and the demand for increased bandwidth will continue in the similar trend.

PCIe was recently updated from a maximum interface data rate of 5Gbit/sec (Gen 2), 8Gbit/sec (Gen 3), 16Gbit/sec (Gen 4), 32Gbit/sec (Gen 5), 64Gbit/sec (Gen 6), & 128Gbit/sec (Gen 7). The USB Promotor Group released the next generation interface USB 3.1 which increases data rate from 5Gbit/sec to 10Gbit/sec, USB 3.2 doubles the data transfer rate with 2 ports of 10Gbit/sec per lane or 20Gbit/sec per connector, USB4 increase the data transfer rate to 20Gbit/sec per lane or 40Gbit/sec per connector, USB4 Version 2.0 enables data rate at 40Gbit/sec per lane or 80 Gbit/sec per connector. DisplayPort is also increasing from 5.4Gbit/sec, 8.1Gbit/sec to 10Gbit/sec, 13.5Gbit/sec and 20Gbit/sec in DisplayPort 2.0 specification. HDMI 2.1 increases transfer speed to 12Gbit/sec. Moreover, Thunderbolt can reach 20Gbit/sec per lane with Thunderbolt 3 & Thunderbolt 4 utilizing two lanes to achieve 40Gbit/sec. USB4 V1 can also support DisplayPort 2.0 and Thunderbolt 3 as legacy interfaces. USB4 V2 and Thunderbolt 5 support bandwidth up to 40 Gbps per lane, total up to 80 Gbps for transmitter and up to 80 Gbps for receiver. It also includes a flexible Bandwidth Boost mode which provide up to 120 Gbps transmit bandwidth and up to 40 Gbps receive bandwidth for video intensive applications.

Challenges imposed by the increasing data rates include signal distortion across the PCB (Printed Circuit Board) traces and interconnect cables, primarily due to bandwidth limitations through the transmission medium. Such signal distortion, along with signal noise caused by other increasingly fast adjacent signals, can result in data errors or display corruption. Designing robust high-speed digital transmitters & receivers that operate under these conditions is challenging, especially while consuming less power as demanded by smaller, lighter systems with longer battery life.

Another challenge of high-speed digital data transmission is RFI (Radio Frequency Interference) that causes interference with the wireless services within the same device. This problem has become a key focus as the number of wireless services increases, devices get smaller, and data rates increase. These further challenges circuit design of both the data interface transmitter and receiver. Most of the digital interfaces introduced within the past decade, including USB, USB-C, USB4, PCIe, SATA, HDMI, DisplayPort and eDP, use low voltage signaling that allows direct integration of the interface into system, display and peripheral chips. However, because of the very high data rates, a signal repeater device is often needed somewhere along the signal path, particularly for implementations using long PCB traces, long interconnect cables, or more complex topologies, such as the use of a docking station. Some older interfaces, including LVDS, DVI, HDMI 2.0 often require dedicated interface devices to handle high voltage signaling, and repeaters are commonly required here as well.

Hence, while interface standards are increasing their data rates, CPU and GPU vendors, as well as contract manufacturers, will increasingly rely on high-speed interface ICs to ensure that their devices function reliably, consuming less power at reasonable cost. Recently, USB Type-C which merges USB3.1 traffic and DisplayPort display data as well as Thunderbolt on the single connector with power delivery capability dramatically improves high-speed communication efficiency and user experience. USB4, leverage the same USB Type-C connector merge DisplayPort, Thunderbolt and native 20Gbit/sec or 40Gbit/sec data and video packets, will be next generation mainstream external interface for all desktop and portable computing devices. As such, industry demand for high-speed interface ICs can be expected to grow faster than the overall computing market.

Display Driver and Timing Controller requirements

DisplayPort continues to gain market share as the external computer video interface over VGA, DVI and HDMI. eDP, which uses the same electrical interface on the GPU or CPU, dominates over LVDS (Low Voltage Differential Signaling) as the embedded display interface between the motherboard and display panel in notebooks, tablets, and all-in-one computers.

LCD panels used in these embedded display systems include a display driver function known as a Timing Controller (Tcon) chip. The Tcon receives digital video from the system GPU, then controls the LCD panel timing, and outputs pixel data to another set of chips known as source drivers. Over the last decade or so, Tcons have been low complexity devices, in general, produced on inexpensive, large geometry processes by low-margin, high volume chip vendors in Asia. However, changes in system requirements are now disrupting this established supply chain. Single chip eDP Tcon with Embedded Driver (TED) is a new market trend for high end notebook with very slim bottom bezel that leverage LCD panels with Low Temperature Polycrystalline Silicon (LTPS), Oxide, or a-Si Thin Film Transistor (TFT) technology. Further more, market continue to demand thinner portable devices which driver to reduce thickness of LCD panel that create a new category of touch and Tcon Embedded Driver (tTED) which leverage the in-cell touch technology integrated with display panel and eliminate and extra touch sensor layer to make the overall panel thickness smaller. For the main-stream a-Si and Oxide LCD panels, incell touch technology can also be achieved by multiple components similar to existing architecture with touch AFE integrated into source drivers plus touch controller and MCU integrated into or separated from eDP Tcon controller.

The migration from LVDS to eDP has been one major disruption in the Tcon market. LVDS has served as the embedded display interface for over 10 years. The primary driver for the change to eDP is the shrinking process geometries of the motherboard video source chips, such as GPUs, or CPUs with integrated GPU. With the deep-submicron geometries used in such devices, supporting the higher voltage level of LVDS is difficult. Utilizing a higher data rate, eDP also requires fewer wires and device pins, and through the use of data scrambling it generates less EMI (Electromagnetic Interference) and RFI, thereby reducing the requirement for bulky shielding. Being packet-based, similar to data communications protocols, eDP also enables newer features not previously implemented in a display interface.

The higher eDP data rates also support the trend to higher display resolutions, higher refresh rates mainly for gaming applications, and greater pixel depth for High Dynamic Range (HDR) video, meaning more bits per pixel. Without eDP this higher performance would be difficult, as the use of LVDS would result in unacceptably higher wire & pin counts, as well as high power dissipation.

The biggest hurdle facing eDP for most of the existing Tcon vendors is the increased level of complexity. Unlike LVDS, which uses a very simple pixel transport protocol, eDP is much more complex, using a packet-based protocol, carrying both pixel and control data, similar to that used in data communications. eDP also operates over fewer wires at a higher data rate, which requires high calibered high-speed data receiver and equalizer expertise compare to legacy interfaces such as LVDS, & DVI.

Changes have also occurred in the data buses on the backside of the Tcon, on the pixel data buses between the Tcon and LCD source drivers, also known as the intra panel interface. Over the past, the mini-LVDS and RSDS buses have been replaced with higher speed serial point-to-point buses such as SIPI® that have reduced the number of device pins and signal traces, and reduced power.

Demands for even further reduction in system power add to the functional requirements of the Tcon. This includes a full frame "Panel Self Refresh" (PSR) or partial "Panel Self Refresh" (PSR2) function that includes the use of a video frame buffer for an entire frame of the image or partial frame of the image within the eDP Tcon, enabling the GPU to shut down and save power during static (not changing) images. Image compression is also being added to the video interface, which means decompression is needed in the display. And there are other functions, including automatic backlight control and various video processing algorithms, such as contrast improvement and High Dynamic Range (HDR), to both reduce power and improve display color accuracy.

With eDP Tcon Embedded Driver (TED) technology, panel makers are able to reduce bottom bezel space by mounting the TED directly on the TFT glass. This simplifies the flexible PCB connection between the TFT glass and the traditional "Tcon Board" and reduces the "Tcon Board" PCB space, leaving only the LCD backlight driver & miscellaneous power circuitry. Due to the very challenging high-speed signal transmission loss on COG, there are significant challenges in high speed signaling for the eDP interface on the TED. Successful eDP TED development requires deep knowledge of high-speed interface technologies. An additional advantage of TED Chip On Glass (COG) is that it is capable of driving a Full HD or Quad HD LTPS display in landscape format with a single chip versus five or three, (depending on the TFT configuration) chips with the traditional discrete solutions. The new touch and Tcon Embedded Driver (tTED) further reduce the complexity by eliminate the "Touch Controller Board" to reduce PCB space and eliminate the extra touch sensor layer to reduce the overall thickness of touch and display panels.

(2) The upstream and downstream parts of the industry

Parade is a fabless IC design house, and as a result, we rely on 3rd party manufacturing partners to manufacture, package and test our products. After testing, we sell our finished goods, directly or through distributors, to original equipment manufacturers (OEMs), original design manufacturers (ODMs) and system design houses that use our products in their systems.

- (3) Development trends and competition for the company's products
 - (1)Display driver and DisplayPort Timing Controller

Parade was the first company to have eDP-enabled Tcon products in production, and all of our Tcon products today use the eDP or the DisplayPort interface. Our eDPand DisplayPort-based display solutions are sold primarily into notebooks, tablets, allin-one PCs, and LCD Monitors. We offer both standard and custom Tcon products, built to system OEM or panel OEM specifications. For embedded display applications, our primary eDP Tcon competitors include Analogix, Novatek, Mediatek, Fiti Power, Raydium, and Himax. Our eDP receiver performance and error-free robustness remains the highest.

Parade continues to lead the eDP Tcon market in unit volume and number of panel customers. In addition, we have introduced a few of generations of eDP version 1.4b devices, which include frame buffer memory for the PSR function. Those devices are in mass volume production and have been increasing the penetration in the traditional Notebook & 2-in-1 Tablet market.

Leveraging our leading technology of SERDES and DisplayPort, Parade has developed a point-to-point intra panel interface for use between the Tcon and LCD source drivers. Known as SIPI (Scalable Intra Panel Interface), it represents the industry's first point-to-point intra panel interface with embedded clocking. SIPI leverages Parade's SERDES and DisplayPort expertise. Parade now offers SIPI interface on most Tcon products, and has also introduced SIPI-based LCD source driver products. Used together, these new eDP Tcon and SIPI source driver products offer a competitive solution for thin and light high-resolution notebook or tablet LCD panels. The next generation of SIPI 2.0 interface has introduce a fast return channel from source driver back to eDP Tcon. SIPI 2.0 will enable next generation high resolution LCD panels with integrated in-cell touch and stylus functions.

Future eDP Tcon products will address ever-higher levels of integration and panel resolution using finer process geometries. Such performance demands are being made by our committed reference design partners, system OEM customers, and panel OEM customers, particularly for the fast growing thin-and-light notebook and handheld device markets.

Through the introduction of TED (Tcon Embedded Driver) products line, Parade become the leading supplier of highly integrated display solutions for extreme low power, thin and light notebook LCD panels. Leverage our success of TED products line, the tTED (touch and Tcon Embedded Driver) will pave our leading position on highly integrated display solutions for ultra portable notebook markets with finger touch and stylus functions.

(2) High-Speed Interface Devices

Utilizing our experience in the area of SERDES (Serializer/Deserializer) design, Parade has played an important role in enabling these new high-speed data interfaces into the personal computer, tablet, and server markets. In particular this applies to DisplayPort, USB, SATA, HDMI, USB Type-C, USB4 and PCI Express with interface solutions that include signal repeaters, retimers, format converters, muxes, switches and splitters. All of our devices in this category utilize proprietary embedding signal equalizer technology in the data receiver that removes signal distortion and further enhances the ability to achieve error-free signal recovery. The primary competitors in this market include Texas Instruments (TI), NXP, AS Media, Analogix, Diodes, Kandou, Nuvoton, Phison, and Astera Labs. Parade has sustained a large market share in this area by maintaining competitiveness in regards to time to market, signaling and EMI performance, power consumption, package size, quality, reliability, and pricing.

Parade has introduced new unique signal repeaters that, in addition to equalization, remove signal timing jitter introduced by adjacent signals or other digital functions within the video source. These "Jitter Cleaner" products target HDMI interconnect applications, which are particularly sensitive to timing jitter at the higher data rates specified by HDMI version 1.4, 2.0 and 2.1. The jitter cleaner products have enabled personal computer vendors to offer HDMI 1.4 at the full 3Gbit/sec interface rate to support Ultra HD (4K x 2K) displays at 24-bit RGB color format and 30Hz refresh rate, and 1080p 3D displays. We are now extending this unique technology further to the more advanced HDMI 2.0 market at the full 6Gbit/sec interface rate for UHD displays with up to 60Hz refresh rate. The new HDMI 2.1 repeater product cover 4K at 120Hz refresh rate for gaming application or 8K TVs. We also have a jitter cleaning level shifter, which is required for the Type 2 Dual-Mode DisplayPort cable adaptor, as defined by the new VESA (Video Electronics Standards Association) Dual-Mode DisplayPort standard that Parade helped to develop. Parade dominates in the area of cost effective HDMI jitter cleaning products for the computer or CE markets.

We continue to expand out DisplayPort interface devices, including repeaters, jitter cleaning repeaters, muxes, and demuxes that are widely used in Desktop computers, Monitors, all-in-one PCs, notebooks, tablets, and computer peripherals. Our offering of HDMI interface devices has grown with the addition of new repeaters, including those with jitter cleaning and ultra-low power consumption targeting notebooks and tables, as well as demuxes and switches. We have expanded our SATA/PCIe repeater product line to serve embedded hard disk drive and SSD (Solid State Drive) applications in the desktop and notebook markets. We also have expanded our USB, USB Type-C & USB4 solutions with new USB4 retimers, new USB 3.2 retimer IC, USB Type-C retimer based switch ICs that are optimized for next generation desktop, smart phones, tablets and ultra mobile devices. The PCIe Gen4 & Gen5 create new opportunities for high speed retimers within the server platforms. We are offering x4 and x16 PCIe Gen 4 retimers 4-channel PCIe Gen 4 & Gen 5 redriver plus x16 PCIe Gen 5 retimer products for server and datacenter applications.

We offer a full spectrum protocol converter product line. This includes new highly integrated PD controller, USB hub and DP-to-HDMI 2.0 adapters, USB-C-to-HDMI 2.0/2.1 with HDR, DisplayPort-to-HDMI 2.0/2.1 with HDR and DisplayPort-to-VGA converters for cable adaptors, motherboards, and graphics cards; and DP/eDP-to-LVDS converters for embedded or automotive display applications. These devices serve the growing number of GPUs and CPUs that no longer support VGA, LVDS and HDMI outputs, due to smaller process geometries, but instead support DisplayPort/eDP as the universal display interface. We also developed a MIPI DSI-to-eDP converter to serve the conversion demand for high resolution panels. ITE Tech., Synaptics, Kinetic, Capstone, and Realtek are major competitors for this device.

(3)TrueTouch Controllers

Parade acquired the TrueTouch business from Cypress Semiconductor in August, 2015. We currently offer TrueTouch IC products to customers in the mobile, consumer, industrial, and automotive markets. TrueTouch controllers can often be found in smartphones, tablets, smart watches, and digital cameras as well as printers, POS machines and mobile hot spots, etc. The competitors are Synaptics, Focaltech and Goodix etc. The touch technology has been evolving rapidly. We continue developing new touch technologies including touch and Tcon Embedded Driver (tTED), integrated Touch and Source Driver (TSD), and integrated Touch MCU and eDP TCON (TTCON) product lines.

(1) Revenue by Geographic Region

(2) Market Share of Main Products and Services

Based on product applications, our ICs are classified into three segments: display solutions, high-speed interface devices included high speed converters & USB hub, and TrueTouch controllers. Products relating to display solutions are timing controllers, or eDP Tcon, Touch and Timing Controller (TTCON), source drivers, Touch and Source Drivers (TSD), TED, tTED. Products relating to the high-speed interface are repeaters, redrivers, retimers, MUX, DeMUX, switches, level shifters, USB host controllers, USB hubs and PD controllers. High speed converters are the converters for DisplayPort to HDMI1.4 DisplayPort to HDMI2.0 or HDMI 2.1, etc. TrueTouch products include Gen4, Gen5 and Gen6 devices. While there was no official 3rd party market data describing market size and shares for the segments that we serve, we tried to make reasonable assessment based on collective industry data related to our product applications compared to our own sales. In 2023, we believe our sales of eDP T-CON still maintain the leading position in global market share; our sales of high-speed interface products also represent a strong leading position in the notebook and desktop market. We remain very focused on gaining & expanding TrueTouch and USB host and hub controllers market share.

(3) End Market Dynamics and Growth Potential

Parade's DisplayPort-based ICs, high-speed interface ICs and touch controller ICs, including DP/eDP Timing Controller, Converter, Repeater, Retimer, Source Driver, MUX, DeMUX, Level Shifter, etc., are primarily used in portable computing applications such as desktops, LCD monitors, all-in-one computers, laptops, servers, automobiles, tablet computers and smartphones.

The DisplayPort standard is compatible with a variety of industry standards. It is capable of replacing multiple adaptors and cables with a single connector and smaller form factor, providing better coding and data protection, and delivering a high-speed channel, supporting high definition video and providing total system power savings. Given all the benefits mentioned above, DisplayPort has quickly gained market traction since its introduction. Currently Intel, AMD, Qualcomm and NVIDIA all have integrated DisplayPort into their Graphics ICs and DisplayPort already replace DVI and VGA and eDP replace LVDS. Large OEMs like HP, Dell, Apple, Lenovo, Asus, & Acer also fully embrace DisplayPort and/or eDP. Due to its special characteristics, such as low-voltage signaling and AC coupling, DisplayPort is ideal for shrinking process geometries. Currently, besides Parade, companies that support DisplayPort also include Intel, Mediatek, AMD, TI, NXP, Nvidia, Realtek, Samsung, Analogix, Qualcomm, Tyco Electronics, Keysights, and Unigraf. With broad supports from upstream manufactures to downstream OEM customers, DisplayPort & its derivative such as USB-C & USB4 are become the primary interface standard for computing, monitoring, and smartphone devices.

According to Parade's estimates, the eDP Tcon penetration rate in Notebooks was over 95% in 2019. eDP Tcon penetration rate in Notebook should already reach near 100% in 2020. We also observed the adoption of DP/eDP in automotive market is gaining traction at major OEMs. New advanced automotive-grade SOC for infotainment systems only support DP/eDP outputs. ODM/OEMs in automotive start to use DP/eDP to HDMI/LVDS converters to connect to legacy HDMI/LVDS display devices.

(4) Competitive Niche

① Engineering Expertise

Our engineering team has a long history of success in developing high-speed SERDES technology and display processing technologies and touch technologies for communications, display, touch, and TV applications. As the PC, tablet, smartphone, and automotive markets rapidly adopt high-speed interface standards like DisplayPort, SATA, PCIe, USB, USB-C and HDMI, and aggressively use advanced display and touch solutions, our ability to leverage our engineering expertise to develop high performance, low power, and integrated solutions would be a significant competitive advantage.

⁽²⁾ Proprietary Technologies in High Speed Equalizer, Clock/Data Recovery and SIPI

We have developed a proprietary equalizer and clock/data recovery technology that utilizes an adaptive approach to amplify and recover high-speed signals in a costeffective manner while still maintaining low power. Because computers use standard FR4 PCBs, CPUs need to rely on equalizer and clock/data recovery based solutions to maintain signal integrity for high-speed connectivity, which includes DisplayPort, SATA, PCIe, USB, USB4, and HDMI. Our ability to integrate our proprietary technology into our DisplayPort as well as high-speed interface solutions is a significant competitive advantage.

We also developed a proprietary high-speed interface technology, SIPI, for intrapanel data transmission. The high-speed characteristics of SIPI demonstrate a unique capability to achieve speed performance on panel glass. Our source driver products based on the SIPI interface have gained market traction and are in mass production for worldwide top LCD panel makers. SIPI related high speed technologies for display and touch plus leading position in eDP Tcon products provides us great competitive advantage in the notebook and tablet display only and in-cell touch and display markets.

③ Customer and Partner Relationships

Leveraging our proprietary technology and offering a unique level of quality and reliability, we have earned the trust of leading computer and smartphone OEMs and CPU vendors and have thus developed close relationships with them. Our strong reputation with customers and partners is a significant competitive advantage.

④ DisplayPort Standard Leader

We are an active participant and leader in industry standard-setting organizations. As a member of VESA (Video Electronics Standard Association), Parade has made key contributions to the development of VESA's DisplayPort standard. We were one of the few companies to first develop DisplayPort-based solutions and we have successfully maintained our market leading position. The adoption rate of the DisplayPort standard is increasing rapidly within the embedded Display market. As a leader, we believe we have a unique ability to take advantage of the growth in the DisplayPort market by providing market proven eDP solutions with our "standard plus" strategy.

- (5) Favorable and Unfavorable Factors to long-term development and the Solutions
 - ①Advantageous factors
 - A. Broad and Deep High-Speed Product Portfolio
 - B. High Barriers to Enter High-Speed Interface Markets
 - C. Leading Customer Base
 - D. Growing Market for High-Speed Solutions including DisplayPort
 - E. Standard-plus development strategy
 - F. TrueTouch, USB hub and PD IPs
 - ^② Disadvantageous factors and countermeasures
 - A. Significant Competition The semiconductor market is highly competitive and we expect significant competition for our Display and High-Speed Interface solutions in the future. Our strategy is to leverage our proprietary equalizer and clock and data recovery technology to develop higher performance, more highly integrated and lower cost products in the future to maintain our competitive advantage.

- B. Customer Concentration The majority of our revenue is currently driven by the top computer OEMs who have been early adopters of the DisplayPort standard. However, as the DisplayPort market proliferates, we expect more and more non-computing OEMs and ODMs will adopt DisplayPort, and, as a result, our customer concentration will be reduced.

(1) Key Product applications

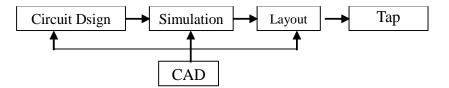

- (2) Production Processes
 - ^① Manufacturing process flow chart

Since we are a fabless IC design company, we outsource both front end and backend manufacturing to 3rd party manufacturers. Chips that are produced by the wafer foundry need to pass a preliminary test to be moved on to packaging, and then be further delivered to subcontractors for a complete functional test. The Product manufacturing process flow chart is as below:

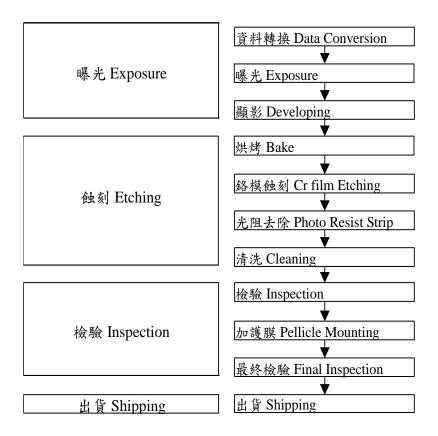

② Design process

IC products come from IC design. Designers design a simple, efficient layout through design aids such as CAD in order to satisfy the specification and functional needs of our customers.

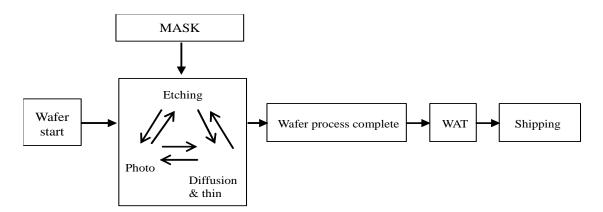

③ Mask process

Circuit geometries that are designed will be stored in a database, and will be given to the mask company for mask manufacturing. The manufacturing process can be divided into four sections: exposure, etching, inspection, and shipping. Finished masks then will be delivered to wafer foundry for wafer fabrication.

④ Wafer Process

Wafer fabrication is a fairly complicated process, but the process is still accomplished within the fab. Once IC design enters the tape-out stage, and masks are delivered, it goes through each process area of etching, photo, implant and diffusion using these masks to complete wafer fabrication. Finished wafers will then go through an electrical test; ones that pass the test will be shipped.

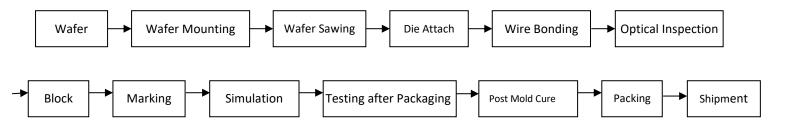

STesting process

Finished fabricated wafers will be sent to an outside wafer testing factory to distinguish good die and failed die.

Unit: NTD in Thousands; %

Explanation on the changes of purchase amount and percentage:

The main raw material that the Company purchases are wafers. For the past two years and as of the first quarter of year 2024, the proportion of purchases from Company B was approximately 70% and the purchase amount from Company B is growing as Company sales growth. There is no change to the established long-term and stable purchase relationship with Company B as it is one of the largest wafer foundries in the world and possesses an advanced manufacturing technology and a favorable lead time schedule. To obtain extra wafer capacity, our engineering teams worked hard to re-design and re-qualify high volume products for different FABs. As a result, many important products are capable of being manufactured in multiple FABs.

Unit: NTD in Thousands; %

Explanation on the changes in customers:

In 2023, the Company's top three customers accounted for approximately 70% of our net operating revenues. These top three customers primarily consist of the distributors with who work to service the contract manufacturers for global brand end-customers as well as TFT-LCD panel producers who incorporate our chips as part of their display modules procured by the global brand end-customers. Since many of the global brand end-customers procure their panels from, and outsource the manufacturing of their products to, more than one panel producer and contract manufacturer, many different panel producers or contract manufacturers may purchase our chips either directly or via our distributors to meet the demand of the same global brand end-customer. As a result, the actual end-customers of our products (i.e. global brand end-customers) may account for an even greater percentage of our operating revenues, which would make our actual concentration of sales even higher. Utilizing our leading technology in display and highspeed interface, we directly work with a global brand system company to design in our products. This global brand system company has adopted our products. As high-speed interface and DP/eDP timing controllers are pretty new technology, it represents a major application shift in high-end electronic devices and consumer products. Due to the fact that the products introduced by the global brand system company were always leading the industry, our company has decided to have a close relationship with this global brand system company to develop our products, and have a high proportion of sales with it.

The CPA firm of PricewaterhouseCoopers was retained to audit Parade's consolidated Financial Statements and has issued an audit report relating to the consolidated Financial Statements. The Business Report, consolidated Financial Statements and profit allocation proposal have been reviewed and determined to be correct and accurate by the Audit Committee members of Parade Technologies, Ltd. According to Article 14-4 of the Securities and Exchange Act and Article 219 of the Company Law, we hereby submit this report.

Parade Technologies, Limited.

Chairman of the Audit Committee: Norman Shen

April 24, 2024

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANTS TRANSLATED FROM CHINESE

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Parade Technologies, Ltd.

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Parade Technologies, Ltd. and subsidiaries (the "Group") as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the related consolidated statements of comprehensive income, of changes in equity and of cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Auditing and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountants of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the Group's 2023 consolidated financial statements. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole and, in forming our opinion thereon, we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for the Group's 2023 consolidated financial statements are stated as follows:

Goodwill impairment

Description

Refer to Note 4(14) (impairment of non-financial assets), Note 5(2) (critical accounting estimates and assumptions) and Note 6(6) (intangible assets) of the consolidated financial statements where the goodwill impairment has been discussed.

The Group acquired the mobile touchscreen business and the high-speed business in 2015 and 2020, respectively. The balance of goodwill arising from such acquisitions as at December 31, 2023 was NT$2,331,796 thousand.

The Group uses an independent expert's valuation report, which was based on the management's 3-year cash flow forecasts to determine the recovery amount of goodwill; however, the measurement results in a large extent depend on management's assumptions, including the discount rate and the estimated growth rate used, which are subject to management's judgements and having considerable uncertainty. Therefore, the goodwill impairment assessment is a key audit matter this year.

How our audit addressed the matter

Our procedures in relation to the key audit matter included:

- 1. Evaluated the rationality of the evaluation model of management's expert using the nature of the Group.
- 2. We confirmed that the future cash flow used in the evaluation model is consistent with the next 3-year budget provided by the Group, and assessed budget achievement in previous years.
- 3. We assessed the appropriateness of key assumptions used, such as growth rate and discount rate.

Inventory impairment losses

Description

Refer to Note 4(10) (inventories), Note 5(2) (critical accounting estimates and assumptions) and Note 6(3) (inventories) of the consolidated financial statements where the inventory impairment losses has been discussed.

Inventories and allowance for inventory valuation losses as at December 31, 2023 was NT$4,454,175 thousand and NT$680,383 thousand, respectively. The rapid changes in the technology of the industries in which the Group is involved and the net realizable value used in the evaluation of obsolete inventories often involve subjective judgements and therefore highly uncertain estimates. Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value. The impact of inventories and its allowance for diminution in value has a significant impact on the financial statements. Therefore, the loss on inventories and allowances assessment is a key audit matter this year.

How our audit addressed the matter

Our procedures in relation to the key audit matter included:

1. The valuation of inventory impairment losses adopted the understanding of the nature of the industry, and it is confirmed that the accounting policy is consistent with the previous period.

- 2. Understood the Group's inventory control procedures and observed the annual inventory count in order to assess the effectiveness of the classification of obsolete inventory and internal control over obsolete inventory.
- 3. Verified the appropriateness of the logic for evaluating the inventory aging report to confirm that the report information is consistent with the Company's policies.
- 4. Reviewed the historical information of inventories, supplemented by inspecting the amount of provision after the reference period, and then assessed the reasonableness of the loss provision.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the consolidated financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements. As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgement and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- 1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- 2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- 3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- 4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- 5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- 6. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards. From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

4. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the periods presented, unless otherwise stated.

(1)Compliance statement

The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the FSC (collectively referred herein as the "IFRSs").

(2)Basis of preparation

- A. These consolidated financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.
- B. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRSs requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the consolidated financial statements are disclosed in Note 5.

(3)Basis of consolidation

- A. Basis for preparation of consolidated financial statements:
 - (a) All subsidiaries are included in the Group's consolidated financial statements. Subsidiaries are all entities (including structured entities) controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. Consolidation of subsidiaries begins from the date the Group obtains control of the subsidiaries and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiaries.
 - (b)Inter-company transactions, balances and unrealized gains or losses on transactions between companies within the Group are eliminated. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been adjusted where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.
 - (c)Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the parent and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income is attributed to the owners of the parent and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

(4)Foreign currency translation

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the "functional currency"). The Company's functional currency is US Dollars; however, the consolidated financial statements are presented in New Taiwan Dollars under the regulations of the Republic of China where the consolidated financial statements are reported to the regulatory authorities.

- A. Foreign currency transactions and balances
 - (a)Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions or valuation where items are remeasured. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

- (b)Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the period end are retranslated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date. Exchange differences arising upon re-translation at the balance sheet date are recognized in profit or loss.
- (c)Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies held at fair value through profit or loss are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date; their translation differences are recognized in profit or loss. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies held at fair value through other comprehensive income are retranslated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date; their translation differences are recognized in other comprehensive income. However, non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies that are not measured at fair value are translated using the historical exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions.
- (d)All foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in the statement of comprehensive income within "other gains and losses".
- B. Translation of foreign operations

The operating results and financial position of all the group entities, associates and jointly controlled entities that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- (a)Assets and liabilities for each balance sheet presented are translated at the closing exchange rate at the date of that balance sheet;
- (b)Income and expenses for each statement of comprehensive income are translated at average exchange rates of that period; and
- (c)All resulting exchange differences are recognized in other comprehensive income.
- (5)Classification of current and non-current items
 - A. Assets that meet one of the following criteria are classified as current assets; otherwise they are classified as non-current assets:
 - (a) Assets arising from operating activities that are expected to be realized, or are intended to be sold or consumed within the normal operating cycle;
 - (b)Assets held mainly for trading purposes;
 - (c)Assets that are expected to be realized within twelve months from the balance sheet date;
 - (d)Cash and cash equivalents, excluding restricted cash and cash equivalents and those that are to be exchanged or used to settle liabilities more than twelve months after the balance sheet date.
 - B. Liabilities that meet one of the following criteria are classified as current liabilities; otherwise they are classified as non-current liabilities:
 - (a)Liabilities that are expected to be settled within the normal operating cycle;
 - (b)Liabilities arising mainly from trading activities;
 - (c)Liabilities that are to be settled within twelve months from the balance sheet date;

(d)Liabilities for which the repayment date cannot be extended unconditionally to more than twelve months after the balance sheet date. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

(6) Cash equivalents

Cash equivalents refer to short-term highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amount of cash and subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. Treasury bill meets the definition above and is held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments in operations is classified as cash equivalents.

(7) Accounts receivable

- A. Accounts receivable entitles the Group to a legal right to receive consideration in exchange for transferred goods or rendered services.
- B. The short-term accounts receivable without bearing interest are subsequently measured at initial invoice amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(8) Impairment of financial assets

For financial assets at amortised cost including accounts receivable or contract assets that have a significant financing component, at each reporting date, the Group recognises the impairment provision for 12 months expected credit losses if there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition or recognises the impairment provision for the lifetime expected credit losses (ECLs) if such credit risk has increased since initial recognition after taking into consideration all reasonable and verifiable information that includes forecasts. On the other hand, for accounts receivable or contract assets that do not contain a significant financing component, the Group recognises the impairment provision for lifetime ECLs.

(9) Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset expire.

(10) Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost is determined using the standard cost method. The cost of finished goods and work in process comprises raw materials, other direct costs and related production overheads. The item-by-item approach is used in applying the lower of cost and net realizable value. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated cost of completion and applicable variable selling expenses.

(11) Property, plant and equipment

A. Equipment is initially recorded at cost.

- B. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognized as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognized. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the financial period in which they are incurred.
- C. Equipment applies cost model and is depreciated using the straight-line method to allocate its cost over its estimated useful live. Each part of an item of equipment with a cost that is significant in relation to the total cost of the item must be depreciated separately.
- D. The assets' residual values, useful lives and depreciation methods are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each financial year-end. If expectations for the assets' residual values and useful lives differ from previous estimates or the patterns of consumption of the assets' future economic benefits embodied in the assets have changed significantly, any change is accounted for as a change in estimate under IAS 8, 'Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors', from the date of the change. The estimated useful lives of equipment are as follows:

Machinery and equipment	$3 \sim 5$ years
Office equipment	$3 \sim 5$ years
Leasehold improvements	$2 \sim 5$ years
(12) Leasing arrangements (lessee) - right	of-use assets / lease liabilities

- A. Leases are recognised as a right-of-use assets and a corresponding lease liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the Group. For short-term leases or leases of low-value assets, lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.
- B. Lease liabilities include the net present value of the remaining lease payments at the commencement date, discounted using the incremental borrowing interest rate. Lease payments are comprised of the fixed payments, less any lease incentives receivable. The Group subsequently measures the lease liability at amortised cost using the interest method and recognises interest expense over the lease term. The lease liability is remeasured and the amount of remeasurement is recognised as an adjustment to the right-of-use assets when there are changes in the lease term or lease payments and such changes do not arise from contract modifications.
- C. At the commencement date, the right-of-use assets is stated at cost comprising the following:

(a)The amount of the initial measurement of lease liability;

(b)Any lease payments made at or before the commencement date; and

(c) Any initial direct costs incurred by the lessee.

The right-of-use assets is measured subsequently using the cost model and is depreciated from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the asset's useful life or the end of the lease term. When the lease liability is remeasured, the amount of remeasurement is recognised as an adjustment to the right-of-use assets.

D. For lease modifications that decrease the scope of the lease, the lessee shall decrease the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset to reflect the partial or full termination of the lease, and recognise the difference between remeasured lease liability in profit or loss.

(13) Intangible assets

A. Computer software

Computer software is stated at cost and amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 3 to 5 years.

B. Goodwill

Goodwill arises in a business combination accounted for by applying the acquisition method.

C. Mask

Mask is stated at cost and amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 3 years.

D. Patent and other intangible assets

Separately acquired intangible assets are stated at historical cost. Intangible assets acquired in a business combination are recognised at fair value at the acquisition date. Related intangible assets have a finite useful life and are amortised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of 7 to 10 years.

(14) Impairment of non-financial assets

- A. The Group assesses at each balance sheet date the recoverable amounts of those assets where there is an indication that they are impaired. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell or value in use. Except for goodwill, when the circumstances or reasons for recognizing impairment loss for an asset in prior years no longer exist, the impairment loss shall be reversed which shall not exceed the book value of the asset, net of depreciation or amortization, if unimpaired.
- B. The recoverable amounts of goodwill are evaluated periodically. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. Impairment loss of goodwill previously recognized in profit or loss shall not be reversed in the following years.
- C. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to each of the cash-generating units, or groups of cash-generating units, that is/are expected to benefit from the synergies of the business combination. Each unit or group of units to which the goodwill is allocated represents the lowest level within the entity at which the goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes. Goodwill is monitored at the operating segment level.

(15) Accounts payable

A. Accounts payable are liabilities for purchases of raw materials, goods or services.

B. The short-term accounts payable without bearing interest are subsequently measured at initial invoice amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(16) Employee benefits

A. Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in respect of service rendered by employees in a period and should be recognised as expense in that period when the employees render service.

B. Pensions

Each subsidiary of the Group adopts defined contribution pension plan in accordance with local regulations. The contributions are recognized as pension expense when they are due on an accrual basis.

C. Employees' compensation and directors' remuneration

Employees' compensation and directors' remuneration are recognized as expense and liability, provided that such recognition is required under legal or constructive obligation and those amounts can be reliably estimated. Any difference between the resolved amounts and the subsequently actual distributed amounts is accounted for as changes in estimates. If employees' compensation is distributed by shares, the Group calculates the number of shares based on the closing price at the previous day of the board meeting resolution.

- (17) Employee share-based payment
 - A. For the equity-settled share-based compensation arrangements, the employee services received are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments granted at the grant date and are recognized as compensation cost over the vesting period, with a corresponding adjustment to equity. The fair value of the equity instruments granted shall reflect the impact of market vesting conditions and non-market vesting conditions. Compensation cost is subject to adjustment based on the service conditions that are expected to be satisfied and the estimates of the number of equity instruments that are expected to vest under the non-market vesting conditions at each balance sheet date. Ultimately, the amount of compensation cost recognized is based on the number of equity instruments that eventually vest.
 - B. Restricted Stocks Awards:
 - (a)Restricted stocks issued to employees are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments granted at the grant date and are recognized as compensation cost over the vesting period.
 - (b)For restricted stocks, where those stocks do not restrict distribution of dividends to employees. However, employees must return the dividends received if they resign before the vesting conditions are fully satisfied. When receiving dividend, the Group credits related amounts that were previously debited from retained earnings, legal reserve or capital reserve at the date of dividends declaration.

(c)For restricted stocks where employees do not need to pay to acquire those stocks. However, when employees resign before the vesting conditions are fully satisfied, the Group will redeem the restricted stocks without consideration and then retire them. After the restricted stocks were retired, the Group decreased "Ordinary shares" and increased "Capital reserve from restricted stocks".

(18) Income tax

- A. The tax expense for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognized in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in other comprehensive income or items recognized directly in equity, in which cases the tax is recognized in other comprehensive income or equity.
- B. The current income tax expense is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date in the countries where the Company and its subsidiaries operate and generate taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in accordance with applicable tax regulations. It establishes provisions where appropriate based on the amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.
- C. Deferred income tax is recognized, using the balance sheet liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated balance sheet. However, the deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of goodwill or of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realized, or the deferred income tax liability is settled.
- D. Deferred income tax assets are recognized only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized. At each balance sheet date, unrecognized and recognized deferred income tax assets are reassessed.
- E. Current income tax assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the balance sheet when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset on the balance sheet when the entity has the legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and they are levied by the same taxation authority on either the same entity or different entities that intend to settle on a net basis or realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.
- F. A deferred tax asset shall be recognized for the carryforward of unused tax credits resulting from research and development expenditures to the extent that it is possible that future taxable profit will be available against which the unused tax credits can be utilized.

(19) Share capital

- A. Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or stock options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.
- B. Where the Company repurchases the Company's equity share capital that has been issued, the consideration paid, including any directly attributable incremental costs (net of income taxes) is deducted from equity attributable to the Company's equity holders. Where such shares are subsequently reissued, the difference between their book value and any consideration received, net of any directly attributable incremental transaction costs and the related income tax effects, is included in equity attributable to the Company's equity holders.

(20) Dividends

Cash dividends are recorded as liabilities in the Company's financial statements in the period in which they are resolved by the Board of Directors. Stock dividends are recorded as stock dividends to be distributed in the Company's financial statements in the period in which they are resolved by the Company's shareholders and are reclassified to ordinary shares on the effective date of new shares issuance.

(21) Revenue recognition

- A. The Group designs and sells high-speed interfacing chips, touch and serial products of DisplayPort. Sales are recognised when control of the products has transferred, being when the products are delivered to the customer, and there is no unfulfilled obligation that could affect the customer's acceptance of the products. The risks of obsolescence and loss have been transferred to the customer, and either the customer has accepted the products in accordance with the sales contract, or the Group has objective evidence that all criteria for acceptance have been satisfied.
- B. Revenue from these sales is recognised based on the price specified in the contract. Other current liability is recognised for expected price rebate payable to customers in relation to sales made until the end of the reporting period. The sales usually are made with a credit term of 30 to 60 days. As the time interval between the transfer of committed goods or service and the payment of customer does not exceed one year, the Group does not adjust the transaction price to reflect the time value of money.

C. A receivable is recognised when the goods are delivered as this is the point in time that the consideration is unconditional because only the passage of time is required before the payment is due.

(22) Business combinations

- A. The Group uses the acquisition method to account for business combinations. The consideration transferred for an acquisition is measured as the fair value of the assets transferred, liabilities incurred or assumed, and equity instruments issued at the acquisition date, plus the fair value of any assets and liabilities resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement. All acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred. Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are measured initially at their fair values at the acquisition date. For each business combination, the Group measures at the acquisition date components of non-controlling interests in the acquiree that are present ownership interests and entitle their holders to the proportionate share of the entity's net assets in the event of liquidation at either fair value or the present ownership instruments' proportionate share in the recognized amounts of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. All other non-controlling interests should be measured at the acquisition-date fair value.
- B. The excess of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree and the fair value of any previous equity interest in the acquiree over the fair value of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed is recorded as goodwill at the acquisition date. If the total of consideration transferred, non-controlling interest in the acquiree recognized and the fair value of previously held equity interest in the acquiree is less than the fair value of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed, the difference is recognized directly in profit or loss on the acquisition date.

(23) Operating segments

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the Chief Operating Decision-Maker. The Group's Chief Operating Decision-Maker, who is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments, has been identified as the Board of Directors that makes strategic decisions.

5. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS, ESTIMATES AND KEY SOURCES OF ASSUMPTION UNCERTAINTY

The preparation of these consolidated financial statements requires management to make critical judgements in applying the Group's accounting policies and make critical assumptions and estimates concerning future events. Assumptions and estimates may differ from the actual results and are continually evaluated and adjusted based on historical experience and other factors. Such assumptions and estimates have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year; and the related information is addressed below:

(1) Critical judgements in applying the Group's accounting policies

None.

(2) Critical accounting estimates and assumptions

A. Impairment assessment of goodwill

The impairment assessment of goodwill relies on the Group's subjective judgement, including identifying cash-generating units, allocating assets and liabilities as well as goodwill to related cash-generating units, and determining the recoverable amounts of related cash-generating units. As of December 31, 2023, the Group recognized goodwill amounting to $2,331,796.

B. Evaluation of inventories

As inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value, the Group must determine the net realizable value of inventories on balance sheet date using judgements and estimates. Due to the rapid technological innovation, the Group evaluates the amounts of normal inventory consumption, obsolete inventories or inventories without market selling value on balance sheet date and writes down the cost of inventories to the net realizable value. Such an evaluation of inventories is principally based on the demand for the products within the specified period in the future. Therefore, there might be material changes to the evaluation.

As of December 31, 2023, the carrying amount of inventories was $3,773,792.

B. Goodwill is allocated to the Group's cash-generating units identified according to operating segment. The Group is identified as one cash-generating unit. The recoverable amount of all cash-generating units has been determined based on value-in-use calculations. These calculations use pre-tax cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by the management covering a five-year period.

The recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit calculated using the value-in-use exceeded their carrying amount, so goodwill was not impaired. The key assumptions used for value-in-use calculations are budgeted gross margin, weighted average growth rates, and discount rates.

Management determined budgeted gross margin based on past performance and its expectations of market development. The weighted average growth rates used are consistent with the forecasts included in industry reports. The discount rates used are pre-tax and reflect specific risks relating to the relevant operating segments.

(2) Capital management

B. Financial risk management policies

- (a) The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (such as foreign exchange risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group's overall risk management programme focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimize potential adverse effects on the Group's financial position and financial performance.
- (b) Risk management is carried out by a central treasury department (Group treasury) under policies approved by the Board of Directors. Group treasury identifies, evaluates and hedges financial risks in close cooperation with the Group's operating units. The Board provides written principles for overall risk management, as well as written policies covering specific areas and matters, such as foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, credit risk, use of derivative financial instruments and non-derivative financial instruments, and investment of excess liquidity.

- C. Significant financial risks and degrees of financial risks
 - (a) Market risk

Foreign exchange risk

- i. The Group's major purchases and sales transactions are denominated in US Dollars. The change in fair value will be caused by fluctuations in the foreign exchange rate; however, the amounts and periods of the Group's assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are equivalent, so the market risk could be offset.
- ii. The Group's businesses involve non-functional currency operations.

The information on assets denominated in foreign currencies whose values would be materially affected by the exchange rate fluctuations is as follows:

	December 31, 2023
	Foreign Curre
	Amount		Exchange	Book Value
	(in RMB thousa	ands)	Rate	(in USD thousa	nds)
(Foreign currency:functional currency)

	e	•	Exchange Rate	Book Value (in USD thousa
(Foreign currency:functional currency)	Amount	•	Ũ
(Foreign currency:functional currency) Financial assets - monetary items	Amount	•	Ũ

Based on the foreign currency quoted position held by the Group as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, as US dollars appreciate/depreciate by 1%, the profit or loss before tax of the Group would increase by $81 and $103, respectively.

- iii. Total exchange loss (gain), including realized and unrealized, arising from significant foreign exchange variation on the monetary items held by the Group for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, amounted to ($18,605) and ($40,285), respectively.
- (b) Credit risk
 - i. Credit risk refers to the risk of financial loss to the Group arising from default by the clients. The main factor is that counterparties could not repay in full the accounts receivable based on the agreed terms.

- ii. The Group manages their credit risk taking into consideration the entire group's concern. According to the Group's credit policy, each local entity in the Group is responsible for managing and analyzing the credit risk for each of their new clients before standard payment and delivery terms and conditions are offered. Internal risk control assesses the credit quality of the customers, taking into account their financial position, past experience and other factors. Individual risk limits are set based on internal or external ratings in accordance with limits set by the Group treasury. The utilization of credit limits is regularly monitored.
- iii. The default occurs when the contract payments are past due over 360 days.
- iv. If the contract payments were past due over 60 days based on the terms, there has been a significant increase in credit risk on that instrument since initial recognition.
- v. The following indicators are used to determine whether the credit impairment has occurred:
 - (i) It becomes probable that the issuer will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization due to their financial difficulties;
 - (ii) The disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties;
 - (iii) Default or delinquency in interest or principal repayments;
 - (iv) Adverse changes in national or regional economic conditions that are expected to cause a default.
- vi. The Group classifies customers' accounts receivable in accordance with customer types. The Group applies the simplified approach using loss rate methodology to estimate expected credit loss under the provision matrix basis.
- vii. The Group used timely information to assess the default possibility of accounts receivable. On December 31, 2023, the loss rate methodology is as follows:

	0.	Up to 60 days	Up to 90 days
	 Not past due	 past due	 past due
At December 31, 2023
Expected loss rate (Note)	0~0.03%	0~0.03%	0.5%

Total book value	$ 1,661,511

~184~

- Note: Based on past experience, it has been shown that the defaults of these customers have been extremely low, so the expected credit losses are measured at a single loss rate based on the past due dates. The amount of allowance for doubtful accounts was not significant, so the Group had not recognized related impact as at December 31, 2022.
- viii. The Group wrote-off the financial assets, which cannot be reasonably expected to be recovered, after initiating recourse procedures.
- ix. Movements in relation to the Group applying the modified approach to provide loss allowance for accounts receivable are as follows:

		2023	2022
	Accour	nts receivable	Accounts receivable
At January 1	$	-	$ -
Provision for impairment		2,549	-
Reversal of impairment loss	(2,549)	-
Effect of foreign exchange
At December 31	$

- (c)Liquidity risk
 - i. Cash flow forecasting is performed in the operating entities of the Group and aggregated by Group treasury. Group treasury monitors rolling forecasts of the Group's liquidity requirements to ensure it has sufficient cash to meet operational needs.
- ii. Group treasury invests surplus cash in interest bearing current accounts, money market fund and treasury bill, choosing instruments with appropriate maturities or sufficient liquidity to provide sufficient headroom as determined by the abovementioned forecasts. The Group held treasury bills of $5,231,107 and $4,187,905 as at December 31 2023 and 2022, respectively, which are expected to immediately generate cash inflows for managing liquidity risk.
- iii. The table below analyses the Group's non-derivative financial liabilities into relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period at the balance sheet date to the contractual maturity date for non-derivative financial liabilities. The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows.

December 31, 2023		Less than 1 year	Between 1 year and 5 years

(4) Fair value information

- A. The different levels of inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value of financial and non-financial instruments have been defined as follows:
 - Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date. A market is regarded as active where a market in which transactions for the asset or liability take place with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.
 - Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

B. Financial instruments not measured at fair value

The book value of financial instruments not measured at fair value, including cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and other payables, reasonably approximates their fair value.

C. There were no financial and non-financial instruments measured at fair value recognized as at December 31, 2023 and 2022.

7.6 Risk Management

- 1. From the most recent year till the printing date of the annual report, effects of changes in interest rates, foreign exchange rates and inflation on corporate finance, and future response measures:
 - (1) Interest rate changes:

The Company's interest earnings for the year 2022 and 2023 are NTD 63,911 thousands and NTD 223,099 thousands respectively, accounting for 0.32% and 1.62% of total operating revenue, which is insignificant. There were no interest expenses for 2022 and 2023, and it is fair to say that changes in interest rate do not have major influence on the Company. If future operating needs require the obtainment of bank loans, both interest expense and the influence of interest rate changes on the Company will increase. The Company will constantly monitor the changes in interest rates in order to reduce the effects of interest rate changes on the profits and losses of the Company.

(2) Exchange rate changes:

The main purchasing and selling of the Company is denominated in United States Dollars ('USD'). The account receivable and account payable from selling and purchasing transactions may cancel out each other, creating a natural hedge effect. The Company's foreign exchange gain for 2022 and 2023 are NTD 38,787 thousands and NTD 27,858 thousands respectively, accounting for 0.19% and 0.20% of total operating revenue, which has limited influence on the Company's profits and losses.

The functional currency of the Company is the US dollar. Up to the printing date of the annual report, the change in fair value will be caused by fluctuations in the foreign exchange rate. But due to the distribution of cash dividends and the payment of local expenses at various operating locations, it is necessary to exchange US dollars for various foreign currencies, which exposes the Company to the risk of exchange rate fluctuations. To reduce the impact of exchange rate fluctuations on the Company's profit and loss, the Company continuously monitors market exchange rates through online real-time systems and strengthens its communication with financial institutions, so as to analyze exchange rate trends and respond promptly to the impact of exchange rate fluctuations.

(3) Inflation

The Company's profits and losses have not been significantly influenced by inflation in the past. If inflation increases the cost of purchasing, the Company will make adequate adjustments to the selling price, hence inflation should not have major influence on the Company. In addition, the Company will refer to economic figures and reports from government and research institutes on regular and irregular basis, and review and organize the relevant information in order to provide reference to management level for making decisions. 2. From the most recent year till the printing date of the annual report, the main causes and response measures for engaging in high-risk and high-leverage investment, capital loans to another party, endorsement, or the policy, gains, and losses from derivatives trading:

The Company is not engaged in high-risk and high-leverage investments, have capital loans to another party, endorsements, or the trading of financial derivatives. The Company has laid down "Operational Procedures for Loaning of Company Funds", "Operational Procedures for Endorsements and Guarantees", "Operational Procedures for Acquisition or Disposal of Assets", and "Operational Procedures for Financial Derivatives Transactions", and with all resolutions passed at the shareholders' meeting, the Company will refer to relevant proceedings when dealing with related operational procedures.

3. Future R&D projects and estimated costs:

For years the Company has been involved in the development of high-speed digital transmission interfaces and results are gradually being realized. Future development plans include:

- (1) Strengthen the development of products related to various new high speed interface standards.
- (2) Leverage USB4 to enhance the cascade connectivity between PC system, DisplayPort displays and its related data and human interface peripherals, so to broaden the adoption of USB4 interfaces.
- (3) Develop display driver and touch integrated product ICs.

- (5) Actively developing new generation of high-speed digital transmission technology, as well as signal repeater technology.
- (6) Actively developing enhanced touch and stylus technologies.
- (7) Develop automotive specific integrated touch and display products.

The Company's R&D expenses for 2022 and 2023 accounts for 12.45% and 18.79% of total operating revenue. Depending on future product development projects, the Company will continue to invest in R&D resources for R&D projects in 2024.

In addition, the Company will constantly monitor changes in major political policies or law provisions from home or abroad, in order to take appropriate response measures when necessary.

5. Technology (including cyber security risks) and industry changes affecting the Company's business and financials, and response measures:

Due to the short life expectancy and high replacement rate of electronic consumer products, the Company will constantly monitor technological changes in the industry, control market demand, make active adjustments to product functionality, and evaluate other factors that might influence the operation of the Company. If the Company is unable to control the market pulse, future industry changes, or development trends, the Company will be unable to release products that will meet market needs, and might cause adverse effects to the Company operation.

The designated marketing department is in charge of the market planning and researching, consistently monitor the industry changes and adjust products functions to meet the market needs. From the most recent year till the printing date of the annual report, the Company has not experienced any major technology or industry changes.

In terms of technology and system, various security measures are introduced to reduce threats and manage risks. The Company continues to review and evaluate its cyber security policy to ensure the appropriateness and effectiveness. 8. Predicted benefits from warehouse expansion and possible risks and response measures:

Our company is an IC design company that adopts the fabless business model. Until this day, there has not been plans of warehouse expansion from the Company, thus the risks are not applicable.

- 9. Risks from concentrated purchasing and selling of goods, and response measures:
 - (1) Concentrated purchase of goods:

Our company is a fabless IC design company with concentrated purchases from the second largest wafer foundry in the world, B Company, and the Company is mainly located in the middle of the semiconductor value chain. In order for IC design companies to obtain a reliable and stable capacity, and also consider the process technology, quality yield, capacity sufficiency, delivery cooperation, and various other factors, they tend to maintain a close and long-term relationship with specific semiconductor foundry. If the cooperating semiconductor foundry has insufficient capacity, the Company might experience risks of supply shortages or delay on delivery of goods. Due to the risks mentioned above, besides maintaining a good cooperative relationship with the semiconductor foundry, the Company will not rule out the possibility of seeking cooperation from other manufacturers.

(2) Concentrated selling

Although the top 3 customers in 2022 and 2023 accounted for over 70% of total revenue, but none of these customers' purchases exceeded 40% of total revenue. In order to explore and reach more customers, our sales strategy is to distribute our products through distributors, however, we can also deal with the end-customers under their needs. The Company builds its customer relationship with renowned OEM/ODM vendors through Design-in and indirect sales, such like Foxconn, Quanta, Compal, Wistron, Inventec, ASUS, Hisense and LCFC. Many worldwide renowned vendors of PC and Consumer electronic products are also our customers since the Company participates in their product design, therefore our customers will purchase our products at the mass production stage, and under this sales model, our high-speed transmission and display products, are widely adopted by worldwide renowned manufacturers. The high-speed transmission and display belongs to advanced technique, which is mainly used in high-end electronic products, since these renowned manufacturer's products differ from their competitors and the Company chose to work with them so closely, the Company's sales are also concentrated in these customers. Besides maintaining good relationships with our customers, the Company will continue the development of new products and actively exploring new customer base in order to avoid the risks of concentrated selling.

10. Directors, supervisors, or major shareholders with shares exceeding 10% of total shares outstanding, the effects, risks, and response measures on the Company from substantial transfer or renewal of share equity:

From the most recent year till the printing date of the annual report, no such incident has occurred.

11. Controlling rights changes in the Company and its effects, risks, and response measures.

The most recent year till the printing date of the annual report, there were no controlling rights changes in the Company. The Company has enhanced its corporate governance measures, introduced Independent Directors, and established auditing councils in order to raise overall shareholder rights protection. The Company relies heavily on the professional managers for the running of daily operations. Currently we have an outstanding team of professional managers that has contributed substantially to the operating performance of the Company, and this system looks to gain continuous support from the shareholders in the future, so if control rights changed, it should not have significant negative influence on the various managing and operating advantages of the Company.

- 12. Other significant risks and response measures:.
 - (1) The influence and risks on the Company with the management team or R&D personnel leaving the Company:

As a professional IC design company, talents are one of the most vital assets to the Company, as talented R&D personnel are hard to come by, the Company might be adversely affected if the management team or R&D personnel decides to leave the Company. Therefore, besides establishing a good communication channel with our employees, we also provide employees with an environment for learning and growth in order to build their sense of belonging and cohesion. In order to reduce employee turnover rate, the Company also introduced employee share option schemes to attract and keep professional talents in the Company, and also to allow higher management to participate in performance-based reward systems.

(2) Special situations with possibilities of insufficient protection

The Company operation faces numerous risks and dangers such as malfunction, damages, or abnormality to machinery and equipment, late delivery of equipment, capacity restrictions, labor strikes, fire, natural disasters such as earthquakes or typhoon, environmental disasters or occupational disasters, all of which could have adverse effects on the Company's operations. There is insurance on the Company's fixed assets, and some of the Company's suppliers have also taken out insurance on the Company's inventory, but even with all the insurance, it is still possible that under some situations they might not provide sufficient protection against all the uncertainties. If the Company suffers losses as a result, the Company's operations might be adversely affected.

(3) Shareholder rights protection

There are numerous differences on regulations between the Company Law of Cayman Islands and the Company Law of the Republic of China. Although alterations has been made to the Company's memorandum according to the 'Investors' Rights Protection' from the Taiwan Stock Exchange, but there are still many differences between the laws regulating company operation in the two countries. Investors should not compare and apply the rights protection of investing in Taiwan to that of investing in a company of Cayman Islands. Investors should fully understand and consult with professionals regarding shareholder rights protection when investing in a company of the Cayman Islands.

(4) Intellectual property rights

As an IC design company, talented R&D personnel and R&D intellectual property are important assets of the Company. Once the intellectual property is infringed, not only affect the Company's products and sales, but also time and spending to take legal actions in order to defend the Company's interest, which may be harmful to the Company's operations.

The Company is not aware of any charge of intellectual property violation from third parties, however, this kind of accusation is not that rare in high-tech industry. In the future, the Company may still be accused of violating other's intellectual property, whether evidences are enough or not. Any single charge may affects The Company's reputation, financial status, business and sales, and may also generate a high legal fee, harming the Company's operations.

8.4 Explanation for material difference from the provisions for the protection of shareholders' rights

Important Provisions for the Protection of Shareholders' Rights	Provisions of the Company's Articles of Association	Explanation
On the subject of convention and resolution of shareholders meeting and with respect to extraordinary shareholders' meeting convened by the shareholders holding no less than three percentage (3%) of the total number of the issued Shares of the Company for at least one (1) year, if the Board of Director fails to convene a meeting within fifteen days after the shareholder so request, the shareholder may, after obtaining an approval from the competent authority, convene an extraordinary shareholders' meeting on its own initiative.	Article 28 of the Company's current Articles of Association does not require prior approval from the competent authority for the extraordinary shareholders' meeting convened by such shareholders.	According to Cayman lawyers, there is no statutory provision regarding convention of shareholders meeting under the Cayman Companies Law. Given the above, the Company's current Articles of Association do not require prior approval from the competent authority. Article 28 of the Company's Articles of Associations provide that " If the Board does not within fifteen (15) days from the date of the deposit of the requisition dispatch the notice to convene an extraordinary general meeting, the requisitionists may themselves convene an extraordinary general meeting, provided that if the extraordinary general meeting will be held outside the ROC, an application shall be submitted by such requisitionists to the GTSM or the TSE for its prior approval"
Certain proposals involving material rights of the shareholders shall be adopted by a majority of the shareholders at a shareholders' meeting attended by two-thirds or more of the total number of the outstanding shares. If the total number of shares represented by the shareholders present at the shareholders' meeting is less than two-thirds of the total outstanding shares, such proposals	Article 1 defines "Special Resolution" as a special resolution under Cayman Company Act and Supermajority Resolution as a special resolution under Taiwan laws. Where an entity acts as a shareholder of a company, its authorized representative may be elected as a Director or supervisor of the company. If there is a plural number of such authorized representatives, each of them may be so elected, but such authorized representatives may not concurrently be elected or serve as the Director and supervisor of the company.	The Company's current Articles of Association do not have this provision.	The Company does not establish the position of supervisor, thus there is no such situation in which an entity shareholder's representative is elected or serves as Director and supervisor concurrently.
